GARLAND BLAMES BANKING SYSTEM

A great deal of the blame for the present depression existing throughout Canada is attached to the banking system of Canada, according to a letter received from E.J. Garland, federal member for the Bow River constituency.

The letter is a copy of that being sent to the secretaries of all U. F. A. locals in the constituency by the member and is accompanied by a questionnaire relative to the service of the banks. The letter reads in part:

"It has been stated that instructions have been given to branch managers to refuse renewal of loans, and generally make collections wherever possible; and this at a time when the farmers were very hard pressed owing to the severe drop in the value of grain and other agricultural produce.

"When making these criticisms to the powers that be, we are at once asked to give specific cases of hardship or inconvenience caused by the action of the banks." It is for this reason that the questionnaire is being sent out, and for the enlightenment of individuals a few of the questions asked are given below:

Did your district have a crop this year? Average yield and grade? Net price per bushel? Average net price of butter, eggs and poultry in January 1931? What success did the farmers have, who asked for a small bank loan at that time to enable them to buy necessary food and clothing for winter? Is interest ever increased when notes are renewed? Are the banks in any way unduly pressing creditors? Is the bank at your point loaning money now?—and several others.

EASTER MONDAY DANCE

Final arrangements and preparations have been made for the Easter Monday dance, to be held in the Elks hall Carbon, on April 6th. This dance is being sponsored by the Carbon Elks Lodge and will be in the form of both old time and modern dances, so that both young and old will be able to participate in the entertainment of the evening. A local young peoples orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and they have been practicing up on the old tunes and the modern dance music.

The admission charge for this dance is nominal, gents being "soaked" 50c and ladies 25c. All ladies attending are asked to bring either cake or sandwiches.

"THE BOOK" BEING CIRCULATED

Since a meeting held in Carbon some time ago by George Bevington, a number of his adherents have become intensely interested in his subject and the past week or so copies of a book entitled "The Book" have been circulated amongst the people who are or may be interested. This book seems to be reliable information and is written by "Coin" Harvey, controller of the Mundus Publishing Company. The book deals with the many forms of "Usury" or interest on loans and from the time of the rise of the Roman Empire it shows how the people have tried to suppress the money lender and his interest or usury. This book goes on to deal with the gradual increase of power by the money lenders until they practically forced the United States' Government at the time of the Civil War to grant them a banking law and today this form of banking, although perfected, is in use in the United States and Canada. Mr. Harvey states in his book that this banking system is far from perfect, in fact that in his belief it is the ruination of the country and he gives his reasons and remedies of the situation.

This book is interesting reading and is educational along banking lines, even though one does not agree with all its essentials, and should anyone desire to read "The Book" we believe that they would have no trouble in borrowing a copy.

PARTY FOR MR. & MRS. J.W. TALBOT

A party was given on Monday, evening March 30th in the Community hall of the Peerless Mine in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Talbot Jr., who were married in Calgary on March 26. A large crowd was present.

At supper time Mr. Ralph Fuller made a presentation on behalf of the drivers of the Peerless mine, who had contributed to a very useful gift for the newly married couple. Excellent music was provided for the evening, and everyone present expressed themselves as having a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot were the recipients of many useful gifts.

Southern News

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Martin moved to their new home about 13 miles south of Carbon, on Friday of last week. We understand that they have purchased this farm.

Word was received Saturday from Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Neubauer of Hanna, that their daughter Delina is very ill at the Hanna Hospital. A later report was that she was improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb G. Schell moved into their new home on Monday of this week. This place is seven miles south of Carbon.

Miss Netty Rempfer returned home on Saturday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kary.

Mr. J. M. Ohlhauser has a job driving Henry Kary's gravel truck.

A double wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sailer on Thursday afternoon, March 26th, when Miss Elizabeth Dieder became the bride of Mr. Emanuel Sailer; and Miss Sarah Sailer was married to Mr. Fred Dobler, of Redlands. The Rev. A. Ittermann officiated. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at Sailer's place.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS TO EUROPE INCREASE

Recently 266 head of western cattle were shipped through the port of St. John on one ship to Great Britain and 187 moved via the Canadian National Railways to Halifax, and left there on the Donaldson Line, for Glasgow. On the opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence, these cattle shipments will move through the port of Montreal.

Saint John cattle shipping agents estimate that 50,000 head of western cattle will be shipped to Europe this year, if ships are available.

SWEEPSTAKE BETTORS WARNED BY P.O. OFFICIALS

Winnipeg—Several hundred Winnipeggers and thousands of Canadians who hold tickets on the great Irish hospitals' sweepstakes, have been plunged into the depths of despair since rumors have been circulated—apparently on the best of authority—that practically all avenues leading to Dublin have been closed by the postal authorities.

Government departments in Canada, the United States and England are co-operating to crush attempts to get the priceless counterfoils to Dublin, without which all chances of participating in the vast array of prizes are null and void.

The authority of postal officials was much in evidence during the handling of the sweepstakes on the Grand National. Disappointed persons who had purchased tickets received them back from the post office after the running of the race with a polite note informing them that it was against postal regulations to send these counterfoils through the mails. The restrictions have been tightened considerably in recent weeks.

Canadian and British postal authorities are empowered to examine all letters which may arouse their suspicion hence any and all mail directed to Dublin comes under someone's scrutinizing eye. Letters containing counterfoils at once arouse suspicion owing to their bulkiness and these are opened and held until after the draw is made.

POISON BRAN TO KILL CUTWORM

The entomological branch of the federal department of agriculture has inaugurated an intensive campaign for the control of outbreaks of the pale western cutworm in Saskatchewan and Alberta in 1931.

This pest caused serious losses last year and under average conditions the losses will be even more serious this year.

Attention is also being called to the red-backed cutworm, infesting gardens and to the grasshoppers or "locusts."

Poison bran baits are found most effective as a measure of control. If you are in the infested area get in touch with the nearest Dominion entomological laboratory for practical assistance in applying effective control measures.

LLOYD TWISTS MELODRAMA TO MAKE UPROARIOUS FUN

Taking a melodramatic premise and turning it into humor is no new trick for Harold Lloyd. Yet never before has he done it with the finesse he exhibits in his latest picture "Welcome Danger" which will be shown at the Carbon Theatre on Friday night of this week.

"Welcome Danger" relates a story that with but a few twists, could have been developed into a thriller of the first water. Lloyd retains the thrill elements, the mystery and the romance of the drama, but adds laugh after laugh to the story by little twists of his own.

"Welcome Danger" relates the experiences of a boy whose avocation is botany, and who suddenly finds himself a detective in underground Chinatown trying to outwit wily Chinamen who have baffled the police of San Francisco. Lloyd portrays the son of a famous Golden Gate police officer, who passes on, assuming he has left the world a legacy in the form of a great law-enforcing son. Harold pre-fers toying with flowers to swinging blackjacks and guns, but when his father's old friends call on him for assistance he readily assents, with results that are highly humorous for the audience.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK INTO LIQUOR STORE

Foiled by the City police in an attempt to break into the Alberta Government Liquor store during the early hours of Wednesday morning, William Olive, of Delacour, appeared before Magistrate O'Connor in the City police court on Wednesday afternoon and was remanded in custody until Saturday.

It is alleged that Olive, along with another man, presumably from the same district as the former, were caught in the act of prying the door at the rear of the liquor store by the City police.

Finding the door a tough proposition to force open, the marauders used an auger or drill and bored four holes in the door, then employed a pinbar. Constable E. Jones had noticed the men at work on the door when making his usual midnight rounds and left the scene immediately to locate Constable D. Marshall, so that with the assistance of the latter the chances for capturing the two men were more even.

During the absence of Constable E. Jones, the men had left, but soon returned, the police watching their movements from a point of vantage. Immediately the men resumed activities on the sturdy door. Constables Jones and Marshall made a rush at them. The two alleged thieves ran in opposite directions, Constable Jones chasing one and Constable Marshall the other.

Constable Marshall fired a couple of shots from his revolver when the men ran away, but the fleeing individuals failed to stop. Constable Jones outran Olive and placed him under arrest, while the other fellow got clean away. It is thought the Olive and his accomplice had a car in the vicinity and that the latter lost no time in making his getaway.—Drumheller Mail.

Olive was sent up for trial by Magistrate O'Connor at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing last Friday, and he is now out on bail of $3000 personal cognizance and two sureties of $1500 each. The trial will not come off until the next assizes, which will probably be held about December.

"RATTLESNAKE PETE" IS VETERAN SOLDIER

When the drawing was made on the sweepstake for the Grand National, much interest was created in the announcement that "Rattlesnake Pete" of West Vancouver, had drawn a "consolation" ticket valued at $5,900. The gentleman in question is A.H.O. Freemantle, fire prevention inspector for the Canadian National Railways in Vancouver. He earned the picturesque title of "Rattlesnake Pete" at Valcartier in 1914, when, as a member of the first Canadian contingent, he was sergeant major. It was said of him that "he always warned before he struck."

A unique incident happened at Salisbury Plains in the early days of the war when the Canadian contingent was being inspected by King George and Lord Kitchener. Stopping in front of Freemantle, His Majesty said, "I congratulate you on your service." After a look at his ribbons, Lord Kitchener added, "There are more medals in that man yet." This was proven when Freemantle was awarded the D. C.M. for distinguished conduct at St. Julien, where he was severely wounded.

Why France Is Economically Strong

Trying to ferret out the reason why France, of all the major nations, has no unemployment, but rather is importing 3,000,000 aliens to work in her fields, mines and factories, Freeman Tilden writes in the World's Work on "Why France is the Top-Dog."

All the chimneys of French factories are smoking. Portuguese workers have been imported in droves to supply the shortage of labor. Italians armed with picks and shovels follow Napoleon's trail over the Alps, in reverse order. Three hundred thousand Poles were given jobs last year. There are no doles, no Communists, no bread lines.

The findings run something as follows: Frenchmen are born marketers. They waste nothing. They know how to stretch French paper to make the two ends meet. Nothing is wasted.

Nor does this mean they have poor food. They furnish the chefs of the world. They do not dress shabbily. They dress the world. But they dress themselves first.

They buy for cash. They pay down in full for real estate. Not many know what call money is. Margins are on printed pages only. High-powered salesmen are an American institution. French cars seldom wear out carrying heavy mortgages around. Every large business concern has its economist. Employees get good meals at cost. The economists purchase at wholesale prices. Railway employees even get their coal and household supplies for a third what others pay outside of the economist. Companies do not exploit or commercialize their help.

The Frenchman hardly knows what a robot is. Almost everything is hand made. A country that is many times smaller than any one of our Western Provinces supports its millions by managing its individual affairs well. Thus the under-dog has become top-dog.

Is there not in the French situation as thus disclosed a suggestion of value worthy of the thoughtful consideration of the producers and workers of other countries?

Here in America, in Canada as well as in the United States, every encouragement, indeed the most striking inducements, are held out to people in all walks of life to buy on the instalment plan, rather than for cash. The use of credit has become almost universal, not only for capital expenditures which is justifiable and proper if the borrowings are kept within reason, and the capital expenditures to which they are devoted are of a revenue-producing character, but for current expenses. People are urged to buy not only necessities but luxuries on the credit plan, with payments spread over a term of months, or even years. The argument advanced is frequently to enjoy these luxuries now and while you are paying for them, rather than to wait until you have saved sufficiently to pay for them outright. It is a fallacious argument, a fatal mistake to make.

Complaints are fairly general that the banks will not extend credit at the present time. Possibly, however, the mistake by the banks in the past is that they extended too much credit too easily, coupled with the further mistake that they demand too high a rate of interest and thus make it next to impossible for the borrower to ever get out of debt once he is landed in that position. Many a man, both city residents and farmers, have told the writer that having got into debt to the banks or mortgage companies they had a long uphill struggle to get out. They found themselves working for these financial corporations to meet interest charges rather than for themselves. They vowed that once they got out of debt, they would never get in again, but rather would do without things until they could pay for them outright, tighten their belt if necessary, and carry on in the meantime.

It is the man who is carrying a load of debt, paying heavy interest charges annually, possibly on no-revenue producing expenditures made in the past, who finds himself in real difficulty in times of business depression. Any little cash he can get must be paid out again to keep himself solvent instead of being available to carry him along until the tide turns again. But the man who has followed the policy of "pay as you go," who is free of debt, is the man who can most easily weather the storm. Such a man can "carry on," but the man already heavily in debt finds himself in the predicament of going in still deeper, and the final result is, all too frequently, that he finds himself in an impossible position, so deep in fact that he can never get out.

Is the French way not the better way? Does it not make for greater contentment, a more consistent measure of good times, a more enjoyable, happier existence?

End Of Communism

McGill Economist Sees Soviet Despotism Foiled By Human Nature

"Russia is going to break, Communism will prove unavailing, the five-year-plan is doomed to failure, and the greatest despotism and tyranny that the world has ever seen will be foiled by human nature," declared Dr. Stephen Leacock, head of the department of political economy of McGill University, addressing the junior board of trade of Montreal recently on Communism.

The professor issued a warning that police batons were not the correct means of destroying Communism in Canada. "The needs of the people which lead them to seek after anything new must be satisfied as the first and only step required to do away with this evil," he said, referring to Communism in this country.

What was going to happen to Canada and other parts of the western world before Russia's five-year-plan failed, Dr. Leacock asked. "Are we going to sit back and condemn Communism and do nothing to cure the evils of present-day civilization? Are we to permit Russia to set us and the rest of the world an example in energy and determination in the exploitation of their country?"

Military Medal Law Revised

Holders Of V.C. Cannot Be Automatically Deprived Of Decoration

Holders of the celebrated Victoria Cross, highest award for gallantry in Britain's army, will not, in the future, be automatically deprived of the medal if convicted of "treason, cowardice, felony or any other infamous crime," as has been the case in the past.

This important change is one of the new provisions governing military medals announced in the London Gazette. It is stipulated, however, that the award of the V.C. may be cancelled by the King, who may also restore the decoration, if and when, the recommendation for annulment is withdrawn.

Scotland Boosting Aviation

Dundee, Scotland, recently held an informal jollification over the first business transaction carried out there by aeroplane. A business man had flown from Glasgow, landed in a field near Dundee, completed his deal and within an hour was on his way back by air. As a result of the visit, Dundee is joining the movement to provide an airport for every city in Scotland.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

First-Aid and Home Nursing Useful Subjects, Says Colonel Hodgetts

First aid and home nursing should be made subjects in public schools, declared Col. C. A. Hodgetts, director-general of the St. John Ambulance Association, at the annual meeting of the organization in Ottawa. This type of training would, he said, be more useful than "some of the twaddle" now being taught.

The year 1930 was described as surpassing all other years in the history of the association. In the various courses, 23,398 persons took part and proficiency certificates were awarded in 12,855 cases. Certificates and awards had a grand total of 19,748. The annual report was presented by Hon. J. H. King, president.

Prairie Provinces May Obtain Deep Sea Fish Requirements From Hudson Bay Region

Western Canada's hope for a steady supply of fresh fish from Hudson Bay and Strait need not be dashed by the discouraging report issued late last year by the trawler expedition which spent the summer in the bay.

This expedition caught no fish, but in the fisheries department at Ottawa this fact is not regarded as a knock-out blow to the project of a fishing industry in the northern waters. On the contrary, Hon. Edgar N. Rhodes, the Minister of Fisheries, says he will be much surprised if in due course Hudson Bay and Strait do not give the west a steady supply not only of river fish but of deep sea fish.

Mr. Rhodes is a Nova Scotian, has been immersed in the politics of that province most of his life, and has had charge of the Dominion fisheries only since August last. Therefore he admits a lack of detail knowledge about the fish resources of Hudson Bay and Strait. He knows, however, that the estuaries and rivers running into the bay contain plenty of edible varieties and he expects that a supply of deep sea fish will be available from the Strait. Last summer's expedition did not touch the rivers or the strait.

Discussing western fisheries, Mr. Rhodes noted that the transfer of the natural resources had taken the lake fisheries of the prairie outside the jurisdiction of his department. Fish in the prairie lakes and streams will henceforth hatch, swim and be caught under the aegis of provincial authorities. The Dominion department is ready to give aid in solving the technical and selling problems of the lake fishermen, but its primary concern now is with the coasts. There have been only two coasts up till lately, the Atlantic and the Pacific, but the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway brings a third into the picture.

No country has a more difficult fisheries problem than Canada, thinks Mr. Rhodes. A great majority of Canadians live more than 1,000 miles from the ocean. They eat much less fish per head than the British people, and Mr. Rhodes believed they ought to have more fish dinners to balance their diet properly.

The problem is to get the fish to them while fresh. Mr. Rhodes hopes to see Hudson Bay and Strait fisheries play some part in solving this difficulty in the Canadian middle west.

In Planting Grass

Proper Preparation Of the Soil Is Essential To Success

The fine seeds of grasses and legumes require a firm soil that is fine in tilth, and moist. They are very small in size and if seeded too deeply will produce plants which either lack in vigour when they emerge above the ground or are completely smothered. The soil should be firm so that the seed will not be buried too deeply and so that moisture will be near the surface to facilitate the germination of the small seeds before the nurse crop becomes sufficiently well established to smother the small seedlings. —Experimental Farms Note.

Proving Its Worth

Cow Testing Essential To Success In Dairy Farming

In these days when efficiency in production is so essential to success in farming, whether on a large or small scale, cow testing is proving its worth. Daily weighings of milk arouse a farmer's interest in his dairy herd and encourage him to give attention to those little details so essential to success. Supplemented by periodical visits by the Dairy Promoters and "fat" tests daily weighings provide a reliable guide to intelligent feeding and increased production. The "boarder" cow who will not earn her keep even with the best of feeds can be weeded out and the production from good cows increased. —Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

FAVORITE BECAUSE OF ITS YOUTHFULNESS

This peplum model is especially nice in printed crepe silk for street for spring.

The shoulder capelet adds much charm and daintiness. And into the bargain the sleeves may be omitted because the cape covers the upper part of the arms for more formal wear or for resort.

The skirt is slightly flared and shows a flat slimness through the hips.

Style No. 208 may be had in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust.

Plain flat crepe silk, crepe woolen in plain or print, many rayon novelties, wool challis prints, linen, shantung and chiffon are lovely for this model.

Spring, the season of prettiest styles, will soon be here. Prepare now by ordering a copy of our new Fashion Magazine. Attractive styles for women, misses and children. And instructive lessons in sewing.

Price of book 15 cents. Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Approval Policy Established As An Outstanding Achievement

In carrying out its Poultry Club Campaign among Quebec farmers the provincial government has authorized the purchase of "day-old-chicks from approved hatcheries only." This is a splendid endorsement for federal approval policies, which all combine to produce the "approved" chick. The Poultry Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture supervises the now officially recognized "approval" policies, which include Record of Performance, certification and registration, flock approval, hatchery approval and approved chicks. Government supervision is the safeguard which has established the approval policies as the outstanding achievement in the poultry industry in recent years.

Holding Doesn't Pay

Farmers Urged To Market Eggs In Very Best Condition

Holding eggs for a "rise in the market doesn't pay, as a recent report from federal inspectors at Winnipeg clearly shows. It reads: "The majority of receipts are of good quality, although some held eggs are in evidence. These invariably grade seconds, showing the fallacy of holding perishable products for any length of time in anticipation of a higher market." At the time this report was received the spread of extras over seconds was five cents per dozen. The Egg Marketing Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture urges farmers to market their eggs in the very best of condition, which naturally is as soon after laying as possible, so that they will get the benefit of official grading.

Feed To A Finish

Farmers who are feeding cattle for beef should note carefully the following excerpt from the Live Stock Market Report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture: "Shippers are bringing in considerable numbers of half-fat cattle. The market has enough depressing factors to contend with, and shippers are requested, in their own interest, not to sacrifice half-finished stock and thereby adversely affect the market as a whole." Feed your beef cattle to a finish and get all the market has to offer.

Coal Consumption In Canada Has Decreased And Drop Attributed To Increased Use Of Electricity

New Invention Causes Door To Open Without Trouble

A door which opens of its own accord based on the "invisible" ray principle, has just been put into operation at "Oxford." About 10ft. away from one of the service doors on the first floor a light has been made to shine on a photo-electric cell suspended opposite, and when a waitress approaches this door she passes across the line of light and breaks it for a moment. This gives impulse to an amplifier on the other side of the service door, and this impulse operates on a delicate electrical apparatus in such a way as to cause the spring coil attached to the top of the door to draw back, and the door opens.

SELECTED RECIPES

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

- 2 cups scaled milk.
- 1 tablespoon salt.
- 1 yeast cake.
- 4 tablespoons "Mazola."
- 2 tablespoons sugar.
- 1/2 cup warm water.
- 6 cups flour.

Scald milk and when cool add yeast dissolved in warm water. Stir in milk, "Mazola," salt and sugar. Add three cups bread flour and beat well, then let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Cut down and add three more cups of flour. Knead until dough no longer sticks to fingers, then let rise again until doubled in bulk. Roll out and cut with round cutter. Brush over with "Mazola" and fold over. Bake in oiled pan in quick oven.

Have To Prove It

When Paris commuters tell their boss their train was late, they have to produce documentary evidence in support. Every time a train from the suburbs is delayed, officials give out slips on which are shown the time and place of departure and the exact time of arrival at the terminus.

Coal consumption in Canada has decreased approximately three and a half million tons in the past year.

Statistics now available show the quantity of coal made available for consumption in Canada, in 1930, was 31,865,880 tons the preceding year. This decrease is due to several causes, one of which is the increasing use of electricity as a medium of power for operating factories, newsprint mills, saw mills, etc., and to the increase usage of water power instead of electricity. Of the total power used in manufacturing industries in 1928, it is estimated 72 per cent. was electricity. In 1929 and 1930, this percentage is expected to have been greater.

It is estimated electric power has displaced the consumption of coal in Canada to the extent of 14,500,000 tons in 1930. This estimate is based on the average coal consumption per kilowatt hour of all public utility electric power plants in the United States during 1929, which places the equivalent of coal to electricity at 1.59 pounds of coal per k.w.h.

While the consumption of coal last year shows a decrease, the output of central electric generating stations has increased from 18,014 million kilowatt hours, in 1929, to 18,256 millions in 1930. The large stations generating approximately 98 per cent. of the total electrical output, generated only 302 million kilowatt hours by steam power in 1930 as compared with 331 millions in the preceding year.

Statistics issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of Canada during the past week indicate a continued downward trend in wholesale and retail prices, a definite upwards movement in the prices of industrial and public utility common stocks as well as mining stocks, and no changes in the index number of interest rates calculated from the yields of the most popular bonds.

Prince Albert National Park

A Number Of Summer Homes To Be Built This Year At Northern Resort

Construction in Prince Albert Park will be abnormally heavy this year, judging from present indications. A Saskatoon citizen, whose name has not been disclosed, intends to erect a $10,000 summer home at Prospect Point, park residential sub-division. Nine others intend to erect cottages, the average cost to be $3,000. This information was given out by J. A. Wood, superintendent of the park. Additional accommodation for those who do not care to erect their own tents, and a number of business buildings will also be erected this summer.

What the program of park development work for the summer will be depends entirely upon what money will be available in the department of interior appropriations. No definite information in this regard is yet available.

Not So Comfortable

The lady was visiting the poor of her district, and in one of the cottages lived poor old Mrs. Murphy, a widow. After several unsuccessful attempts to make conversation the lady asked: "Was your husband in comfortable circumstances when he died?"

"No, mum," replied Mrs. Murphy, "he was 'alf way under a train."

"I have tickets for the theatre."

"Good, I will start dressing at once."

"Do, dear, they are for tomorrow night."—Il Travaso, Rome.

EASTER LESSON.

THE RESURRECTION

Golden Text: "Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first-fruits of them that are asleep." — 1 Corinthians 15:20.

Lesson: 1 Corinthians 15:1-8, 50-58.

Explanations and Comments

The Resurrection Of Christ the Most Vital Of All the Doctrines Of The Christian Faith, verses 1-4.—Paul reminds his readers, the Corinthians, of his teaching during his work among them, of the gospel, the good news, which they heard from him, on which their faith was grounded, by which they were saved, that is, "in the way of salvation, by faith in the crucified and risen Saviour," if they held fast to the word as he had declared it unto them, and had not believed in vain, "without consideration, and so without stability." "Unless, indeed, your faith was all hap-hazard," is Moffatt's translation. Paul's sentences are usually very involved; the next four verses form one sentence. First of all, as the most important of all the good tidings which I declared unto you, he writes, I told you that which I also had learned (probably from Peter and James, on his visit to Jerusalem recorded in Acts 9:27, 28), that Christ died to atone for our sins, in fulfillment of the Scriptures; that He was buried and was raised on the third day.

"O vanquished grave of Jesus whose chill could work no change upon His heart!"

O deep, deep grave of Jesus whose depths can hide a whole world's sin!

O glorious grave of Jesus through whose gloom lies the pathway to Immortal Life!"

—Ralph Connor.

The Evidence For the Resurrection, verses 5-8.—Here follows the oldest account of the appearances of the Risen Christ. He appeared to Peter; then to the Twelve (Paul keeps the symbolical number, though Judas was dead and Thomas was not present at the first appearance); then to more than five hundred at once (probably on the mountain in Galilee, Matthew 28:16, 17), the greater number of whom are still alive—and you can have their direct testimony, if you wish, is the inference—but some are fallen asleep—(twenty-five years, at least, had passed since the resurrection of Christ); then He appeared to James (the brother of Jesus, Acts 15:13; Galatians 1:19); then last of all, as to a child untimely born, He appeared to Paul also (Acts 9).

The Resurrection Of the Dead, verses 50-58.—Human nature in its habitant of flesh and blood cannot take possession of the Kingdom of God; nor does corruption take possession of incorruption. "The argument is that such a spiritual body as he has been speaking of is absolutely necessary in the Kingdom of God." Behold, I tell you a mystery: some will be living at the last trumpet (1 Thessalonians 4:16; Matthew 24:31; Revelation 11:15), when Christ shall come again, and they will be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet-call; and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. Paul hoped for the return of Christ during his own lifetime.

When this has taken place, when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, when the glorious body is received, then will the resurrection triumph over sin and death, they shall be no more, and law shall be no more, for it will not be necessary. Thanks be to God who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. "The victory is ours, thank God! He makes it ours by our Lord Jesus Christ," Moffatt's translation. Wherefore, let us be steadfast, unmovable, persevering in the work of the Lord, for we know that it will not be thrown away.

Acquire Velocity Quickly

Bodies Falling Through Air Move At Rapid Rate

Experiments have proved that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is thirty-two feet. If a ball be allowed to fall from a tower, it is moving at the rate of thirty-two feet per second at the end of the first second after it has dropped from the hand; at the end of the next second with a velocity of sixty-four feet, and at the end of the third second at the rate of ninety-six feet per second.

Freight By Air

Freight by air is becoming an important factor of aviation in England. Nearly 2,000 tons of bulky articles were carried from Croydon aerodrome last year. These ranged from a lion in a cage to a consignment of several hundred pounds of gold.

Mid-Summer Cruise

All Europe Cruise Of the Cunarder "Lancastria" Offers Wonderful Opportunity

An important and unusually interesting mid-summer cruise to all Europe, sailing in the Cunarder "Lancastria" from New York on June 30th next, has just been announced by the Cunard Line, and Frank Tourist Company, joint sponsors of this new cruise.

The itinerary of the "All Europe" cruise reaches from the sunny shores of the Mediterranean to the beautiful Sogne Fjord, in far Norway, at its best and most beautiful at that time of the year.

Every country in western Europe with the exception of land-locked Switzerland will be visited by the "Lancastria" in the 51-days of her "All Europe" cruise. Among the striking points in the plans for this cruise are included an excursion to Rome at no extra cost, a trip on the big Cunarder through the Kiel Canal which presents magnificent scenery on every hand, and a call at Copenhagen, the attractive and sophisticated capital of Denmark.

Liberal time at many places visited will permit not only of an unusually comprehensive programme of shore excursions without extra cost, but also a number of inland trips for those who wish to amplify or extend their visit, and will appeal greatly to the many Canadians who will be making the cruise.

The Best Of Luck

American Soldier Receives Fortune From Father Of Frenchman He Befriended

The best of luck, which soldiers used often to wish one another in the Great War, has befallen one of them who helped another when his luck was out. The luckless one was a French poilu who had been severely wounded in the last great move in 1918. An American doughboy brought him out of danger, bandaged him, exchanged cards with him, and wished him the best of luck. The American boy never expected to hear from him again. But he has just received a letter from Paris to say that the young Frenchman's father has left him $60,000 in his will. One American, at any rate, had the best of luck in the war.

A Hazardous Calling

Many Movie Actors Lose Lives In Making Pictures

Packing thrills and realism into the movies is fraught with deaths and accidents often as tragic and thrilling as the scenes depicted. During the last five years, fifty-five actors, extras and studio workmen have lost their lives in making pictures, and scores of others received permanent or temporary injuries in the effort to provide "hair-raisers" for movie fans. In addition, the California state industrial-accident commission paid out $421,850 to members of the motion-picture industry for deaths and accidents arising in the course of employment.

Canada's Poultry Industry

Phase Of Agricultural Activity That Is Rapidly Forging Ahead

Canada's poultry industry is one of the phases of agricultural activity which is forging steadily ahead. The poultry population of hens and chickens for 1930, numbered 56,247,000. This represents an increase of one million birds over 1929, and is in marked contrast with the total of 12,696,701 of 1891. Present indications are that Canada's poultry population for the present year will be practically five times what it was forty years ago.

Trading In Ivory

Tons Recently Bought In London, England, At Special Sale

Nearly forty tons of elephant ivory from Africa and Asia were sold recently at a special sale at Mincing Lane, London, England. Over seven hundred elephants contributed to this collection of tusks, which was valued at many thousands of pounds. The average tusk of an elephant is under fifty pounds in weight, and is worth about $150. London is recognized as the headquarters of the ivory trade, although of late years Antwerp has become an important centre for African ivory. Sales take place in Mincing Lane quarterly, and hundreds of manufacturers gather for it. Sales also take place in Liverpool.

Rubber Wheels For Dining Cars

The possibility of rubber dining car wheels is being studied in France by representatives of the principal French roads. Experiments are being conducted on a branch line to St. Florent. Gasoline-driven engines with rubber tires have been operating for several months, and experts believe that their adaptation for passenger cars also will lessen noise, shocks, and deterioration of the rails.

SIR JOSIAH STAMP APPOINTED HEAD OF GRAIN INQUIRY

Ottawa, Ont.—One of Britain's leading economic experts, Sir Josiah Stamp, was recently named as head of the royal commission to inquire into grain trading in Canada. Premier R. B. Bennett told members of the House of Commons that Sir Josiah will sail this week for Canada.

It was known that the British economist had been invited to represent the Dominion Government, but the recent announcement carried the first intimation that he had accepted the post. The royal commission is to consist of three members, one of whom will represent the Grain Exchange and another is to be chosen by the prairie provinces to represent the farmers.

Rumors have associated the name of Premier J. E. Brownlee with the position of grain growers' representative, but Mr. Brownlee has denied that he would accept the post.

Sir Josiah Stamp has for many years been regarded as an outstanding expert in financial matters. He has had a distinguished academic career and has frequently represented the British Government on financial commissions. In 1919 he was member of the British royal commission on income tax, in 1924 he was member of the committee on taxes and national debt, and in the same year was British representative on the Dawes reparation commission. His most recent task has been to seek means of accomplishing economic co-ordination of British railways.

Appointment of the royal commission has followed expressions of opinion in Western Canada that trading in grain futures is detrimental to the best interests of the producers.

Present indications are that work of the commission will be confined to an investigation of this subject, although it appears possible the scope of the inquiry may be extended to include whole questions of marketing of the wheat crop.

Would Repeal Dry Law

Illinois Senate Passes Bill Repealing Enforcement

Springfield, Ill.—The Illinois Senate recently passed the bill repealing the state's prohibition enforcement laws. The measure, already passed by the House, now goes to the governor. The vote was 26 to 24.

The bill would repeal the state prohibition law under the Search and Seizure Act. In effect, it would withdraw all state support from the Federal Government in fighting illicit manufacture and traffic in intoxicating liquor.

Well-To-Do Farmers

Toronto, Ont.—The well-to-do middle class farmer had by no means disappeared. Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture in Alberta, told a meeting of advertisers and salesmen here when discussing farming conditions in western Canada. He believed that present difficulties would be overcome by the farmers. Generous loans to farmers by bankers at low rates of interest were a necessity, however, he said.

Drill For Oil

Winnipeg, Man.—It is understood here that an oil company, name unknown, will expend $250,000 in testing property in the town of St. Boniface, adjacent to Winnipeg, to ascertain if oil exists in the district. It was reported that a 60-day option has been let by the St. Boniface council on a block of 14 acres at a price of $2,000 an acre.

Wolves Terrorize Settlers

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.—Wolves in large packs, coming down from the hills in Moran township, east of the city, are becoming such a menace around the scattered settlements that bushmen and others no longer go into the woods except in numbers, according to word received here recently.

Disorders In India

Cawnpore Troops Shoot Down 30 Rioting Nationalists

Karachi, India.—Turmoil broke out again in India as Mahatma Gandhi, here for the Nationalist congress meeting, was jeered by Communists, and troops at Cawnpore shot down at least 30 rioting Nationalists.

The disorders grew out of the execution last week of three Indians convicted of the murder of a 21-year-old police official in 1928. Gandhi was taken off a train 12 miles outside of the town, but the thousands gathered here for the congress meeting spotted him as he rode into town in an automobile.

A group of 30 or more, known to be of Communist leaning, made for him with jeers and one even made as though to attack the frail little man with a flag staff. Some carried a tray with a gruesome mess of mud and blood.

"Here is the blood of our brothers who were murdered," they cried, referring to the three executed Indians. "Take it back with your truce to Delhi."

Gandhi's men drove off the assailants, and there were cheers for Mahatma.

The day at Cawnpore was even more serious. Rioting began during the night when Moslem shop-keepers refused to close their stores under a general strike order by the congress men. Troops came out when the fighting got serious, and before the worst was over, 30 had been killed, and at least 100 injured.

This trouble too, grew out of the executions.

To Dispose Of Wheat

Senator Borah Would Donate Surplus Wheat In United States To China

Washington, D.C.—Old suggestion that the surplus wheat held by the National Grain Stabilization Corporation, amounting to over 200,000,000 bushels, should be turned over to China, was made by Senator William E. Borah.

Such action would require an act of congress. Wheat held by the corporation has been bought and paid for, and the policy of the Farm Board is that it shall not be given away.

Borah's idea was that a gift of the wheat to China would create an appetite for wheat bread among the 400,000,000 Chinese which would result in largely increasing the market for wheat in that country.

Will Entertain Governor-General

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's new governor-general—the Earl of Bessborough—will be the guest of honor on April 8, at a dinner tendered by Premier R. B. Bennett. Members of the government, the leader of the opposition, and members of the privy council will attend the function.

Honored By King

London, England.—The King invested the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General designate of Canada, with the insignia of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George. Lord and Lady Bessborough had luncheon with Their Majesties after the ceremony of investiture.

No Aid For Germany

Paris, France.—Denunciation of the commercial treaty with Germany and a decision to abstain from all financial aid constitutes the possible policy of France toward Germany if she persists in carrying out an economic pact with Austria, the Associated Press was informed in official quarters.

No Change In Construction Program

Prince Albert, Sask.—There will be no change in the $3,000,000 construction plans of the Canadian Pacific Railway in northern Saskatchewan, it was emphatically declared here by D. C. Coleman, Winnipeg, vice-president western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Less Unemployed

London, England.—The number of unemployed persons in Great Britain on March 16, was announced by the government recently, as 2,639,633, a decrease of 52,104 under the previous month. The total figure is 1,017,875, more than at the same time last year.

May Increase Postal Rates On Newspapers

To Help Lower Deficit Of Post Office Department

Ottawa, Ont.—Voicing a protest against the projected increase of postal charges on second class mail matter, a delegation of over 20 members of the Canadian National Newspapers and Periodicals Association conferred here with Hon. Arthur Sauve, post-master-general.

The government has had before it for some time the proposal to increase the mail rates on second class mail matter, under which category are included newspapers and periodicals. For the current fiscal year the deficit of the post office department will likely range between five and six million dollars, and the proposal to raise the rate on newspapers has been advanced in an effort to overcome some of that deficit.

Rioting In Madrid

Madrid, Spain.—Flying the red flag of the rebellion, students clashed with police at the San Carlos medical school, resulting in the death of two persons and serious injury to 14. Disorders had their origin in the refusal of authorities to allow the students to parade in behalf of amnesty for political prisoners.

Temperance Forces Defeated

London, England.—Rallying after their recent defeat in attempting to introduce prohibition into Great Britain by act of Parliament, the temperance forces sought to curtail liquor advertising which flares over towns and country throughout the Isles, but the House of Commons rejected the move by a vote of 127 to 112.

Tourist Traffic Slightly Less

But Figures For 1930 Place Value At $280,000,000

Ottawa, Ont.—Despite falling off from 1929 tourist traffic still remains a decidedly prolific source of income in Canada. Figures for 1930, estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, place the value of tourist traffic at $280,000,000. This substantial figure, in the face of far-flung economic depression, was only $28,000,000 less than 1929.

Automobile tourists from the United States increased in numbers, but apparently did not spend as much money. The estimated expenditure was $202,409,000 as compared with $215,577,000 in 1929. The conclusion reached by the mathematicians at the Bureau of Statistics is that the relative cheapness of a motor trip through Canadian highways had appeal for those who in more prosperous times might have been inquisitive about the beauty of Monte Carlo. Total tourists from the United States numbered 5,400,000 as against 4,508,000.

Canadian tourists abroad also were watching their pocketbooks. Automobiles carried tourists to the United States who parted with $63,489,000, according to the estimate. This compared with 65,055,000 in the previous year. Total expenditures abroad of all Canadians is placed at $113,000,000 as against $122,000,000 in the year of booming stock quotations.

Must Serve Sentence

Sixteen-Year-Old Farm Boy Fails In Appeal To Higher Court

Toronto, Ont.—Robert Kitowski, 16-year-old farm boy, must serve his sentence of five years at the Stony Mountain penitentiary and receive 20 lashes as imposed by Magistrate Cruso for the holding-up and robbing of the Dominion Bank at Fort Frances, on February 11 last. This was the decision of the First Appellate Court of Ontario, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, following an earnest plea for "a more humane punishment" from A. A. MacDonald, counsel for the young prisoner.

Youthfulness of the prisoner which brought forth a "popular clamor" following the sentence, did not appeal to the first divisional court, the chief justice, Sir William Mulock, declared in announcing their judgment.

Followed Nurse Cavell

Brussels, Belgium.—It was belatedly learned here that Miss Anne Scott-James, 56, who gained fame as a nurse in the Great War, died March 21. Miss Scott-James assumed the mantle of the English nurse, Edith Cavell, shot as a spy by the Germans during the war. Following Miss Cavell's execution, she assisted Allied soldiers to cross the Dutch frontier.

No Samples Yet

Edmonton, Alberta.—"Not a single flake of platinum has been received yet for test purposes," declared Dr. J. A. Allan, head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, when asked regarding reports of a strike at Obed, on the C.N.R., west of Edson.

MELODY MIKE FAN MAIL

From the far northern prairies, from city, town, village, isolated farm house, right across the Dominion from Halifax to Victoria, letters are pouring into Canadian Pacific Railway radio offices, at Montreal, from admirers of the genial old soul who sends out his message of goodwill and kindly humor every Monday night. In one day in March, no less than 1,361 such letters were received and from 15,000 in a month, the figure has risen to close on 40,000. Photograph shows a portion of the radio department staff dealing with this huge fan mail as it comes in each day. The Melody Mike feature is declared by competent judges to be one of the most popular radio offerings on the continent.

MANITOBA POOL ELEVATOR PROBE IS UNDER WAY

Winnipeg, Man.—Surrounded by prominent counsel, including T. J. Murray, K.C., authority on the legal aspects of co-operative marketing, E. K. Williams, K.C., commenced a royal commission investigation into the operations of the Manitoba Pool Elevators Limited.

Procedure to be adopted in presentation of evidence has been settled. Commissioner Williams gave a compromise ruling which will permit Pool counsel to present documentary evidence, and, in special cases, evidence of company officers in explanation of financial reports submitted.

It had been the intention of Mr. Murray and his associate counsel, Travers Sweatman, K.C., to present oral testimony on each document submitted, but this was objected to by A. B. Hudson, K.C., representing James R. Murray, Winnipeg grain authority, whose charges made to Premier John Bracken brought about the appointment of the commissioner.

Under the compromise ruling, agreed to by all counsel, the Pool elevators will file documents, and opposing counsel will be permitted immediate cross-examination of witnesses. The same ruling will apply when witnesses for Mr. Murray testify on the filing of documentary evidence.

Mr. Murray, who charged extravagance in the operation of pool elevators, and under-grading to the detriment of the farmer shareholders, was in attendance at the sessions.

In the country there are 11,000 farmer shareholders, operating 156 country elevators, who are vitally interested in the probe, which is expected to last at least three weeks.

Both sides made clear that "a complete picture" of the pool elevators operations must be presented.

Mr. Murray, senior counsel for the pool, feared it was the intention of Mr. Hudson to call officers and employees of the elevators only to substantiate the charges, and not to bring out the complete facts relevant to the whole case.

A wrong impression might be created with the examination of only one document or witness, said Mr. Murray. Incomplete examination might at least cause suspicion, and with keen rivalry existing between pool and non-pool elevator agents, lead to the circulation of propaganda calculated to break the confidence of shareholders.

"Confidence of shareholders is the life blood of the Pool Elevators, Limited," he said. "It must be maintained."

J. T. Thorson, K.C., associated with Mr. Hudson, declared it was not intended to create any unnecessary disturbance in the minds of shareholders. Everything must be presented in detail, not summaries, and not piecemeal.

Regina Winter Fair

Three Grand Champion and Reserve Champion Stallions Are Named

Regina, Sask.—Three grand champion stallions were named at the Regina Winter Fair. These were: Clydesdales, "Lochinvar," owned by John Falconer, of Govan, Sask.; Percherons, "Colmar," owned by C. M. Rear, of Regina, Sask.; Belgians, "Goliath," owned by C. M. Rear.

The reserve championship in Clydesdale stallions went to H. Black, of Belle Plaine, with "Carnadoc Footprint"; in Percherons, to C. M. Rear, with "Rainy River Charles"; and in Belgians, to R. Thomas, of Grandora, with "Paragon Bill."

R. Thomas was adjudged to have the best gelding in the show with a Clydesdale, winning over a Percheron, owned by H. Black.

HE IS RISEN

When centuries ago, this gladso-me cry rang out from the faithful watchers by the tomb of the Man of Galilee, there was given to the world one of its most precious gifts—a certain hope of life beyond the grave. It is true that down through the ages theories have been propounded, and arguments have waxed hot, as to just what this after life would be, and while no satisfactory solution has ever been given, nor we opine ever will be, the fact remains that because of the resurrection, we of this present age have an anchor of hope that otherwise could not have been ours.

It matters not whether we are adherents of any of the many dogmas and creeds of the present day, or whether we subscribe to none, those three magic words, uttered almost two thousand years ago, have a deep significance in the lives of all of us.

Picture, if you can, the hopelessness of a world without hope—the desolation of our lives, if, in triumphing over the grave, the Master had not also given to us hope of a similar triumph.

Easter commemorates not only the world's greatest tragedy, it dates also the birth of the world's greatest hope, the putting into operation the world's greatest balance wheel. With this anchor of faith removed, civilization would totter, and if existence continued it would be of the lowest and most benighted kind.

RETROSPECTION — PROSPECTION

If, in the olden days, a woman bought soap and the lye in it ate holes in her new calico gown, did the manufacturer of the soap get the blame?
He did not, the merchant got blamed for it. If the tea she bought was vile, did the blender shoulder the blame?
He did not, the merchant was responsible. If the gingham faded and the hosiery gave way, the merchant was responsible, because the stamp of origin could not be found on one single article in that store. Beyond the merchant no one took any responsibility.

There is little wonder that the manufacturers and wholesalers set about to remedy this situation, and they made a good job of it, for they started a movement out of which was created national advertising.

This also explains why the North American continent has led in advertising. This continent led because of its greater need for advertising. This country developed rapidly, settlers went into the wilderness, and stores became few and far between. Competition was cut off and prices soared.
There were not enough trained merchants. When it took the average merchant 20 years to establish his reputation in a community as an able, honest trader, how could these men expect to go into a new country among strangers and make good against these odds.

Let us go into the stores of today,

Look at the storekeeper's shelves lined with advertised products. The manufacturer is back of every article on sale. True, this is a new store, in a new location and the proprietor is a stranger to us, but his goods are quite familiar, thanks to advertising. Advertising is safeguarding the public. The public appreciates the protection advertising gives and shows this appreciation by buying advertised goods.

Today the merchant is relieved of the hazards in buying; he is free from assuming responsibility for the quality of the goods he sells. He can turn his attention to service by linking up with these advertised goods.

So, in conclusion, the public is urged to buy advertised goods in order to get value for their money. In turn the merchant must advertise his goods in order to get the public to deal in his store and know what they are getting for their money without seeing it.

Canada Must Win World Championships

World Championships in 1932 will be won by farmers who recognize that the cleanest and best quality seed with the most careful cultivation are essential to the production of exhibition grain. While it is recognized that these things should apply to the whole crop area, concentration upon a small plot is the best plan for securing an exhibit sample. If such a plot is subjected to extra preparation—with more care probably than it is possible to devote to the whole crop area—and sown to the very choicest seed it will not only provide good quality foundation stock for next spring's seeding, but a winning

TOURIST TRADE IS BIG BUSINESS

American car owners are expected to spend approximately $350,000,000 while touring in Canada this year. This is the estimate of the touring bureau of the Detroit Automobile Club, based on records and statistics of expenditures by American motorists in various countries during the past few years.
In all, the American motorist will pay out more than $4,000,000,000 while he is driving in his own country, and Canada, Mexico, and Europe in 1931, according to the statistical experts.
Europe's share of this will be $100,000-000, and Mexico's $50,000,000.

INDIGESTION

Banished by Kruschen

"I suffered for some years from a bad stomach. I used to feel very miserable after meals. The doctor advised me to take Epsom Salts, but it did me no good. I decided to try Kruschen and am now taking it, and have done for the past 12 months, and I am very glad to tell you that my stomach is now in perfect order. I feel as young in spirit as I was 20 years ago, thanks to Kruschen." (W.B.)

You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric—or digestive—juices fail to flow. What you need is a tonic—Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts.

You get all these six salts in Kruschen. The first effect of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. Again, in the intestinal tract, certain of these salts promote a further flow of these vital juices which deal with partly digested food and prepare it finally for absorption into the system.

FREE TRIAL OFFER
If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claim for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c package.

This consists of our regular 75c bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back.

Your druggist is authorized to return your 75c, immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free, at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. C. Hughes, Ltd., Manchester, Eng. (Estab. 1750). Importers: McGillivray Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

She stooped, motherwise, dropping a kiss on Martha's flaxen head.

"Thank you," said Mr. Halliday, wearily. "Thank you for that, and—everything."

Then he, too, stooped above the child.

"I'm going to leave you here to play with Nick and Sonny, little girl. I'll come back soon."

She lifted a tear-stained face and would have clung to him had not Gay called her attention to the tower the boys were building.

"I'll show you how, little Marfa," said Sonny with importance. "I'll make a house 'most big enough for you to live in."

"Go now," Gay whispered, seeing that the child was occupied; and Halliday turned away.

He went straight to Angela's room. She stood almost where he had left

Before Her Baby Came

After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. I work outside during the fruit season in addition to my housework."—Mrs. Charles Slingerland, R.R. #4, St. Catharines, Ontario.

her, and, closing the door, he faced her sternly.

"Angela," he began, "there are guests in the house, and I cannot say what I would say otherwise. There must be no scene; but once before I warned you to curb your temper. Do you remember why?"

She shrank from him, but he followed her relentlessly, and though she tried to look away the cold gleam of his grey eyes held her own while one might have counted ten. Then through the open window was wafted the sound of childish laughter—the tension of those clashing glances broke, and the woman regained her poise.

"Aren't you a trifle melodramatic, my dear husband?" she asked, shrugging. "After all, it was only a cat."

Halliday turned.

"Next time it may be a child," he replied sternly, and left the room.

CHAPTER XIV.

Angela's guests stayed but a short time, though, little Martha once disposed of, James Halliday tried his utmost to be agreeable, and make them forget the awkward moment of their arrival. He even suggested a small dinner to which their next door neighbors were invited, and at which Gay appeared in a charming sea-green gown that caused her hostess to stare almost rudely in surprise.

Angela thought she had taken Gay's measure when she described her as "that dowdy little thing next door." Now, watching Halliday's interested face as he talked with their surprisingly appareled guest, she wondered if by any chance she had been mistaken.

Since the days of her own courtship she had never seen her husband treat a woman just that way.

The sight piqued her—not because she had any romantic feeling left for Halliday, but because she had thought him incapable of being so interested.

There might come a time, she thought vindictively, when the knowledge of that interest would be a deadly weapon in her own hand.

The thought brightened her eyes, making them even more blue and luminous than before. Her husband saw it, and wondered wearily, what new trouble was brewing for himself; yet later, when in the cool of the dimly lighted living-room, Angela sang, her voice might have been part of some celestial choir.

"How gloriously that woman sings!" said Nick, when he and Gay made their way home together across the garden. "She seems to forget everything, and everybody, and give herself up to the expression of her real self. It's as if it were all her own—music, and words, and her lovely way of giving them life. I felt like a fool when she made me try that duet with her, my dear."

"You needn't have. Your voice isn't trained like hers, but at least it's—sincere."

Sincere? What do you mean?"

Gay drew a quick breath.

"You—you wouldn't understand if I told you."

"Why not? Am I really so dense as that?"

"Not in everything, Nick."

"Thanks," Nick laughed, and as they reached the porch, sat down in the hammock and drew her down beside him. "Let's stay here a while and enjoy the moonlight. I don't like those aspersions on my mentality. Why should my singing be more sincere than Mrs. Halliday's?"

Gay was thoughtful for a moment before she answered: "I can't help feeling that she's playing a part, Nick; and somehow I don't care for her friends."

"They're not exactly our sort—a bit blase and world-weary perhaps, though the woman had one lucid interval when she told me about her little girl. They must bore Halliday to drink. He may be a cynic, but he has brains in his head. Still, I think you're unjust to the fair Angela. I bet those things Julie told you have stuck in your crop. Say, Gay, I think you've made an impression on Halliday! He acted tremendously interested in you tonight."

"What an idiotic thing to say!"

"If you're not careful, Madam," Nick retorted, "I shall sue you for slander. That's the second insult you've handed me in fifteen minutes. Besides, he'd have been the idiotic one if he hadn't noticed you. You had those other women looking like tinsel in a jewelry shop."

A sudden smile lighted Gay's eyes. She said: "That's what I meant about the difference in your voice and Mrs. Halliday's."

"I don't quite—get you."

"I said you wouldn't, didn't I?" Nick grinned.

"I believe you set that trap for me, my dear. But you'll have to admit that her voice is beautiful."

"Oh, I do! But unless there's a beautiful soul behind it—" She hesitated, flushed and added: "That may sound foolish, but—"

Gay paused again, and her husband said, with a tender smile for her fancies: "Are you implying then, that my soul is superior to my neighbor's?"

"Yes," answered Gay seriously, "I am. Oh, Nick, I know you'll think me silly, but I do wish you'd be careful how you act with Mrs. Halliday. I don't trust her. Call it jealousy if you like, but it's not that; it's instinct. There! I wish I hadn't said it, though it's been on the end of my tongue for months. I knew you'd laugh."

"I'm not laughing," he protested, though he was shamelessly and obviously amused. "My mouth just naturally turns up at the corners! But, as I've said before, I don't think you do the woman justice. If she's not happy with Halliday (and honestly, I don't think she is), she'd naturally take more interest in other men than would a woman who was satisfied with her own. Don't you believe that, Gay?"

"Perhaps—but—but there's such a thing as legitimate prey, you know."

Nick did laugh now.

"I see. Well—"

"Oh, no you don't!" broke in Gay hurriedly. "You don't see at all. I suppose I'm horrid. Perhaps I'm jealous because I can't sing with you as she can. I've always wished that I could sing. But I'm sorry I said anything if you've misunderstood me."

Her voice trembled, and Nick drew her suddenly close.

"Sometimes, dear old girl, you're just plain foolish. What's a voice, compared with the thing that makes you take off your shoes and stockings and go wading with a fellow? I don't say I'd want to wade every minute, or that I don't like to see your feet in those smart new pumps you're wearing; but neither could we go through life eternally bellowing duets. That's right—laugh! If anyone's been idiotic it's the lady in my arms. Won't she admit it?"

"I suppose I am; but somehow, when I watched you tonight and saw how—how terribly attractive you are—"

"Have you just found it out?"

Nick arose, laughing, and lifted her with him. "In any case don't let it worry you, because you're the only woman of my acquaintance who's sufficiently astute to discover the pleasing fact. That's a corking moon, my dear. I could sit here all night; but as the sober father of a family that's liable to wake early, I prescribe a few hours of sleep. Let's go up."

It was next morning that Angela's guests departed. Halliday, in an endeavour to appease his wife for what he knew she considered his unpardonable conduct in using her room for little Martha, accompanied them to the station; checked their trunks; and was the genially thoughtful host to the last minute. When the train pulled out he walked in silence to the automobile, and assisted Angela to the place beside him.

Worth Of a Good Rain

Is Many Million Dollars If It Comes In Right Season

What is a good rain worth? Computing on the basis of average prices for the past 10 years of North Dakota crops, J. B. Kincer, weather man of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, says one good rain any time from May to August has not been a "million dollar" rain, but a 17 million dollar rain.

Using the rainfall records from May to July, he found that one inch of rainfall in North Dakota produces about six million bushels of oats, nearly three million bushels of barley, nearly one million bushels of potatoes, more than a half million bushels of flaxseed, about nine million bushels of wheat and more than 125 thousand tons of hay, to say nothing of truck garden and other crops.

A sudden smile lighted Gay's eyes. She said: "That's what I meant about

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

Cruise Around the World

Itinerary Of Cunard Liner "Franconia" Is Announced

The tentative itinerary for the Cunard liner "Franconia" cruise around the World in 1932, has just been made public in a statement by Arthur Randles, general passenger traffic manager of the Cunard Line in Canada, reveals a list of ports of call of striking diversity and attractiveness from the world cruise standpoint.

The fact that the "Franconia" is large enough for comfort at sea and yet not too large to enter most of the smaller harbours of the world opens a great many ports to her passengers which they would not be able to see were she larger. At the principal ports the "Franconia" is able to tie up to the docks, obviating the necessity of long and tedious rides in tenders from ship to shore.

Perhaps the most important new feature of the next year's cruise of the "Franconia" around the World will be an added port of call at Haifa, with more than three days allowed for her passengers to see the many historic and sacred places in Palestine. The call at Bali will again be an included feature of the "Franconia's" cruise, with stops at both Buleleng and Telok Padang planned for the 1932 cruise.

Other outstanding features of the "Franconia" cruise will be calls at Athens, Cap S. Jacques (for visits to Saigon and French Indo-China), Paknam (for Bangkok), Macassar in the Celebes, and Chinwangtao (for Peking).

Little Helps For This Week

"Tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope."—Romans v. 3, 4.

Is the road very dreary? Patience yet!

Rest will be sweeter if thou art a-weary.

And after night cometh the morning cheery.

Just bide a wee and dinna fret! The clouds have silver lining.

Don't forget! And though He's hidden, still the sun is shining.

Courage instead of tears and vain repining.

Just bide a wee and dinna fret! "Be patient," said a Scotchman, reprovingly, to his little son.

"What is 'to be patient,' father?" inquired the child.

"Bide a wee and dinna weary," replied the father, with a loving pressure on his shoulder.

How often God's restless children do not wait, and how often they do weary in waiting! Yet He is greatly honored by the trustful spirit, that patiently resigns the unfolding of His inscrutable purposes into His hands; for we know that a meek and quiet spirit is in the sight of God, of great price.—Anna Shipton.

Perfection Is Scarce

Artists Frequently Use Many Models To Produce Results

Many admirers of magazine covers often wonder how the artists secure such wonderful and perfect models to pose for their work and little do the public know the work required to turn out a beautiful subject. In one of artist Thrasher's famous cover designs it required six different girls to pose for the one girl displayed on the cover. He used one for the perfect arms—one for the perfect limbs—one for the perfect hair—one for the perfect eyes—one for the nose—and another for all around beauty—so too many cooks in this case do not spoil the broth.

SOUR STOMACH

JUST a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard anti-acid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes. Don't depend on crude methods.

Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids.

Remember—the genuine is always a liquid. It cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips'. It is always on the wrapper for your protection. Drugstores everywhere have the 50c bottles.

IT'S LAUGH WEEK Hear ----- See

Harold Lloyd
IN HIS ALL-TALKING FUN-RIOT

WELCOME DANGER

Harold Lloyd's here! In the most uproarious comedy he has ever made. He talks in this one and what he says is as funny as what he does. You'll thrill to this gay, romantic comedy; to the surprising, exciting antics in the dens of tongland. Remember "Safety First"
—and see "Welcome Danger!"
